RE: MB Docket No. 10-56

Dear Chairman Genachowski and Commissioners:

I am proud to say that Comcast is committed to my town and I am happy to support its request to join with NBC Universal.

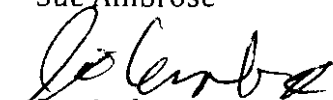

I have seen first-hand the community investment power of Comcast when it's local employees – joined by friends and family – work side-by-side on Comcast Cares Day. It is a wonderful effort that takes place every year.

Comcast is to be commended for understanding its local communities and helping them meet their needs, and I believe that it should be allowed to partner with NBC. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Sue Ambrose

Re: MB Docket No. 10-56

Dear Chairman Genachowski:

My name is Ray Kim and I am President of the Chicago Korean American Chamber of Commerce. I am writing to express my enthusiastic support for Comcast's planned venture with NBC Universal, because the company is an important corporate partner that supports the advancement of Korean-Americans in the Chicago area.

Our chamber is dedicated to building Korean-owned business enterprises and improving the lives of our Korean residents. Comcast has been very supportive of our mission.

As a valued sponsor of our annual street festival, Comcast has reached out to our community and participated in our opening ceremonies. This extremely popular and well-attended event attracts thousands of people throughout the region. It provides visibility for the chamber and a strong economic opportunity for our restaurants and businesses. Comcast's Human Relations Department has participated in the festival as well, seeking qualified job candidates in our community. We appreciate Comcast's dedication to inclusion and its commitment to workforce diversity.

In closing, I continue to be impressed with Comcast, its commitment to our communities and its overall dedication to diversity. I know Comcast is a great company, and I believe the planned venture with NBC Universal will open new horizons and opportunities in the field of telecommunications. On behalf of our chamber, I urge you to facilitate the approval of this important agreement.

Sincerely,

Ray Kim

Chairman Genachowski:

As the programming director for Discovery Green park in Houston, Texas, I am writing to ask for your support in the joining of Comcast and NBC Universal. Comcast is a great corporate citizen and has provided us with a multitude of opportunities to spread the word about the park and our wonderful events, and we appreciate its commitment to us.

Discovery Green park is a 12 acre multi-use green space in downtown Houston. The park serves as sanctuary for those looking for peace in a bustling city. It is a beautiful location for a family picnic, a great place to walk your dog, and host for more than 400 community events each year. We pride ourselves on offering a different event for just about everyone.

Discovery Green Park is fairly young, having opened in April of 2008, and that makes the help we receive from Comcast all the more important. The public service announcements Comcast has produced and broadcast for us let the community know about the things that are going on at the park, and brings people out to events they might otherwise have not known about. In addition, Comcast has featured Discovery Green Park on its Newsmakers program.

Before the park opened, attendance was projected at 500,000 people each year. Thanks in large part to Comcast support, we have seen double that number. We could not attract the many visitors we have had in such a short time without its commitment. I therefore hope the FCC will support Comcast in its effort to grow by joining with NBC Universal.

Best,

Programming Director

Re: MB Docket No. 10-56

Dear Chairman Genachowski:

I am executive director of the Chamber of Commerce in Bolingbrook, Illinois, and I am writing in support of one of our most loyal and helpful members, Comcast, as it seeks your permission to partner with NBC Universal.

The Bolingbrook Area Chamber of Commerce is a not-for-profit organization whose primary purpose is to promote and support the growth and development of the local business community. Our nearly 700 members are an eclectic mix of commercial, retail, industrial, and home-based businesses; medical, governmental, and educational entities, as well as churches and other not-for-profit service and social organizations. The Chamber's ongoing focus is to provide education, networking activities and events, business information, and business development opportunities for our membership.

Comcast, has been a supporter and partner to the Chamber and its programs and outreach events for many years. Comcast's commitment to us is part of the company's broader commitment to the localities it serves. Through our partnership Comcast is able to find local businesses who have the expertise and capabilities they need, as well as to identify local talent to incorporate into their already strong employee base.

Here in Bolingbrook Comcast is recognized as a good corporate citizen that provides high-quality jobs and significant support to local nonprofit organizations, schools, libraries and others. We appreciate that, while Comcast is a national operation, its executives are active Bolingbrook Chamber members who live and work in our communities and have a vested interest in improving the quality of life here.

Our Chamber would not be as strong without the commitment of members like Comcast and I believe that NBC will only be stronger as a result of this proposed partnership.

I urge the FCC to allow the Comcast and NBC Universal partnership to proceed.

Sincerely,

Michael A. Evans

RE: MB Docket 10-56

Dear Chairman and Commissioners:

I am pleased to share with you how a family owned business like Comcast does things that continue to reflect its core family and community values.

Through Comcast Care Days (now in its 8th year) Comcast quickly established itself as a good corporate neighbor almost day one they set foot in our community. It was Comcast who approached the villages in our area (and not the other way around) in seeking to give help where there was a need.

Seven years ago Comcast kicked off the first of many Comcast Care Days in our area with 400 volunteer Comcast employees descending on Round Lake Area School District 116 to spend a day painting and fixing up three schools.

At the time, then District 116 Chief Executive Officer Dennis Stonewall was quoted in local newspapers commenting on the work performed by Comcast's army of volunteers, "My heart is not big enough to thank all of you, but the hearts of over 6,000 Round Lake area students, 650 staff members and the 50,000 people in the community have hearts that thank you."¹

One of the local mayors similarly was impressed with what Comcast Cares Day had done. "It is difficult to keep tears of happiness away knowing that many of our kids will be coming back to freshly painted classrooms," said Round Lake Park Mayor Ila Bauer. "Both learning and self-esteem are enhanced by attractive surroundings."¹

¹ Round Lake News - October 10, 2003 - 'Thank you' is not enough

No. of Copies rec'd 0+4
LIT:ABODF

Ben Rosenfield, longtime principal of one school said, "This is incredible. I have been in this building for 15 years and have wished and hoped for something like this."¹

Five years ago Comcast Care Days also came to the aid of WRLR 98.3 FM, then our community's new upstart radio station, when Comcast corporate manager Frank Deuel reached out to the station to see how they could help out. Half a decade later Comcast still cares enough to provide Internet and cable television services gratis -- thereby allowing WRLR the connectivity to stream its broadcasts, monitor news and weather feeds, conduct research, and a multitude of other uses.

Most recently Comcast partnered with the Round Lake Area Park District to build a large playground from scratch, in just a day. Truly amazing.

The greater Round Lake Area is home to a large minority, blue collar base, and as such has a higher ratio of overall needs for the families living here. Comcast Cares Days are a big deal and is one way that generates positive attitude in the lives of those it affects.

Comcast is attuned to being a model corporate citizen. It still adheres to its founders' beliefs that giving back to the community is a worthy line item whose returns are immeasurable to the human spirit.

Dear Chairman Genachowski:

The Boys and Girls Club of Troy, Michigan, provides a safe haven for kids to play, learn and socialize. To continue to offer our kids high quality programs and services, we rely on corporate partners like Comcast. Our partnership with Comcast has been very meaningfully to our organization and our kids. That is the reason I am writing today to ask you to approve Comcast's plan to join with NBC Universal.

I cannot say enough about the wonderful Comcast Cares Day program we have benefited from in Troy. Our center has been the location of a Comcast Cares Day project in the past, and Comcast Cares volunteers returned this year to once again help us to refurbish our facility to make it welcoming and safe for the children we serve. Comcast also supports our program by making tickets available for our Club kids to attend sporting and cultural events. Most of our kids are from low-income families and would not be able to attend these kinds of activities on their own.

Our kids are the future. Comcast understands this in a very concrete way and does everything a large corporation can do to further our mission and ensure the success of our youth.

On behalf of our Club and all of the wonderful kids we serve, I ask you to support the Comcast/NBC Universal venture.

Dear Chairman Genachowski:

Operation Bootstrap of Lynn, Massachusetts, is dedicated to providing support for the most educationally and economically disadvantaged youths and adults in our community. We empower individuals to lead productive lives by increasing literacy and encouraging life-long learning. We have found a supportive and dedicated partner in Comcast. For that reason, I strongly urge you to support the company's planned endeavor with NBC Universal.

Each year our center serves between 400 and 600 residents in and around the city of Lynn. Seventy-seven percent of our students identify themselves as ethnic/cultural minorities, including Asian, Hispanic and Black. We know Comcast feels an obligation to those students, because we experience its commitment first hand. From financial contributions to our programs, to its sensitivity to cultural diversity across media platforms, and to service on our board from Udom Smith Udom, Comcast's Accounts Payable Coordinator, the company has repeatedly demonstrated that diversity, literacy and community service are among its core values. In 2007, Operation Bootstrap recognized the company as its Community Partner of the Year.

Our partnership with Comcast has also enabled us to launch English On-Demand Local Video programming on Comcast cable systems. Comcast also supports our Lost in Translation program which helps our immigrant population deal with cultural adjustments and connect with necessary community services.

I hope you will think about our organization as you review the companies' proposal.

RE: MB Docket 10-56

Dear Chairman Genachowski,

I understand you and your FCC colleagues are in the process reviewing the deal between Comcast and NBC Universal and are accepting comments from the public. I believe that this venture should be made possible for several reasons.

First, Comcast and NBC are two American companies and we should support these kinds of businesses. Secondly, no anti-trust laws would be broken since by the nature of the two businesses, their services largely do not overlap. Third, consumers stand to benefit from this partnership. Comcast has vowed that NBC programming would remain free to its customers. These facts should put to bed statements made otherwise.

I commend Comcast CEO Brian Roberts and NBC CEO Jeff Zucker for being transparent and addressing issues in regards to the companies joining publicly. Thank you for your consideration.

Dear Chairman Genachowski:

As you review the public interest benefits of the proposed venture between Comcast Corp. and NBC Universal, I want to shed some light on my experience working with Comcast here in Springfield, where I have consistently been able to count on the company as an important community partner.

The Urban League of Springfield serves the African American community in Greater Springfield by advocating for and providing model services that enhance the academic and social development of young people and families, promoting economic self-sufficiency, and fostering racial inclusion and social justice.

Comcast's community involvement has aided us in our mission of enhancing the academic and social development of our area's youth. Through Comcast's partnership with One Economy we have been able to establish a Digital Connectors training program in Springfield. Our young people now receive valuable computer skills training that they will carry with them not just into their future academic endeavors but also to their homes and communities where those skills will benefit their families.

The Springfield Urban League has also been the beneficiary of the company's annual Comcast Cares Day. Comcast has hosted two Comcast Cares Days projects at the Urban League facility in recent years; each year in excess of 100 employees, family members and friends have volunteered to beautify and maintain the building and grounds of the Springfield Urban League facility.

Based on its commitment to the Springfield community and my involvement with the Urban League on both a local and national level for over thirty-five years, I have every confidence that Comcast will continue to be a good neighbor once this new venture is finalized.

Sincerely,

Henry M. Thomas III

RE: MB Docket No. 10-56

Dear Chairman Genachowski:

I appreciate this chance to offer you and your fellow commissioners my thoughts on the proposed joint venture of Comcast and NBC Universal and my experience in Doylestown, Pennsylvania, in dealing with Comcast through the years.

Doylestown Borough is the seat of Bucks County and remains a center for government, commerce, and culture in the region. With the prosperity of the late 20th century, and the rediscovery of traditional small towns as high quality places to live, Doylestown has seen a renaissance of its downtown and an increased appreciation for its architectural heritage.

In my opinion, our community has greatly benefited from its involvement with Comcast. In addition to being an exceptional employer in Pennsylvania, Comcast has also been a neighbor and a friend. It offers outstanding communications services and products to our area, and it provides free Internet service at community sites to assist in getting our citizens connected and familiar with today's essential online technology. It also has sponsored local events, including concerts and other entertainment that celebrates our heritage, history and arts scene.

In my experience, our residents have likewise commended the work of Comcast and its employees in our community. I hope you will look favorably on the request of this excellent Pennsylvania company to join with NBC Universal.

Sincerely,

John Davis

Dear Chairman Genachowski:

As Director of Government Affairs, of Christopher B. Burke Engineering, Ltd., headquartered in Rosemont, Illinois, I am writing today about a national company that operates with an equally strong commitment to the communities of Illinois. Comcast is a solid jobs provider and an outstanding corporate citizen. Therefore, I strongly endorse the partnership proposal between Comcast and NBC Universal.

Christopher B. Burke Engineering, Ltd. (CBBEL) and Comcast partner on a number of local initiatives. For example, Comcast is a sponsor to the For Julie Foundation. Based in Orland Park, Illinois, the For Julie Foundation is a local charity devoted to funding innovative research for leukemia and blood cancers and assists families whose children are fighting those diseases. Together, CBBEL and Comcast support the Foundation's Annual 5k Walk, raising resources and awareness to sustain its mission. Comcast commits itself to the development of the business and non-profit communities in Illinois, and its investments span from grass-roots causes to statewide initiatives. For example, CBBEL and Comcast are co-sponsors of a reception for the fall annual meeting of the Illinois Municipal League and the summer meeting of the Illinois City Managers Association.

Illinois needs more corporate citizens like Comcast. I support Comcast's plan to unite with NBC Universal and urge the FCC to do the same.

Dear Chairman Genachowski:

I am the Corporate Relations Manager for the Home for Little Wanderers, America's oldest, and New England's largest private, non-profit child and family service agency. The success of my organization often depends on the generosity and commitment of our corporate citizens. Comcast has been an outstanding partner to The Home for Little Wanderers. I can enthusiastically endorse Comcast's proposed transaction with NBC Universal, because I can attest to the company's genuine care for and dedication to our cause.

Our mission is to ensure the healthy emotional, mental, and social development of children at risk, their families and communities. Our work is guided by a belief in the right of all children to be safe, nurtured and developed to reach their full potential.

Comcast has made a tremendous difference in the lives of the thousands of children we serve. The company recently brought its people to our Baird Center for Comcast Cares Day. Located on a 50-acre site in Plymouth, Massachusetts, the Baird Center serves as a residential, day and summer school for troubled adolescent boys. The Center is comprised of 21 buildings, including 19 cabins and has a residential capacity of 32.

Thanks to the hard work of Comcast's many employees and their families, the Baird Center received much-needed upgrades. From painting buildings to renovating our softball field and volleyball court to landscaping throughout the facility, the people of Comcast made the Baird Center shine, ensuring that our kids have a well-kept facility at which to learn and grow.

Although seemingly insurmountable obstacles are sometimes placed in their way, children's resilience combined with the support of caring adults can make anything possible. Comcast has demonstrated its commitment to providing that support and, for that reason, it is my hope that you will approve its partnership with NBC Universal.

Re: MB Docket No. 10-56

Dear Chairman Genachowski:

On behalf of Citizen Schools of Massachusetts, I am writing to urge the FCC to approve Comcast's current plan to join with NBC Universal. Comcast has been a supporter and partner of our work and a company that displays a true dedication to kids.

Citizen Schools was born in Boston in 1995 and now operates in seven states. Our after-school programs offer middle school children the opportunity to do hands-on activities with professional teachers and volunteers. Our kids don't just study about journalism – they actually produce a newspaper. They don't learn about the Internet – they build a web site. The skills that they develop give them confidence to become leaders in their communities.

Comcast is a company that really cares about kids, and we have been very pleased to partner with them for the last several years. This year, we took our partnership one step further and worked hand in hand with Comcast volunteers on Comcast Cares Day at Horizons for the Homeless. Our students not only learned the value of public service from this effort but had the benefit of exposure to Comcast's executives and leaders.

While we are tremendously grateful for all Comcast does for us directly, we are also grateful for what the company is doing for our kids indirectly. Comcast provides many of the schools in Massachusetts – and the seven other states in which our programs operate – with courtesy Internet service. I also cannot emphasize enough how important Comcast's support for our sister after-school programs are, such as Big Brothers Big Sisters and Boy and Girls Clubs of America.

We are very gratified to have Comcast in our corner – and in the corner of our young people. As managing director of the Massachusetts' Citizen Schools, I believe I speak for all of us when I ask you to let Comcast join with NBC Universal.

Regards

RE: MB Docket 10-56

Dear Chairman Genachowski:

A recent story that ran in BusinessWeek in early June brought to my attention Comcast's commitment to diversity. The article states Comcast will add at least three cable networks with minority ownership to its channel lineup after partnering with NBC. I was impressed to learn that Comcast is making strides in the area of diversity, not only with minority-owned programming, but employing a more diverse staff. I wanted to send a letter of my support as I understand the Commission will soon be considering the deal between Comcast and NBC.

Sincerely,

RE: MB Docket 10-56

Dear Chairman Genachowski and Commissioners:

I can attest first hand to the great things that Comcast does on a local level to give back to the community. As a life-long Michigan resident, I've read about Comcast giving scholarships to high school students, their work with the members of the wheelchair community — bringing together legislators, Comcast employees and community members to build ramps for greater accessibility into their homes. I can only imagine the greater opportunities and capabilities they would have as a larger entity to continue this stewardship. Please consider the high school students who have been recipients of scholarships funded by Comcast and the mobility-impaired citizens whose lives have been improved by Comcast when you make your decision about the Comcast and NBC Universal partnership.

RE: MB Docket No. 10-56

June 16, 2010

Dear Chairman Genachowski and FCC Commissioners,

On behalf of the Grand Rapids Area Chamber of Commerce, I urge you to make a favorable decision on the proposed joining of NBC Universal and Comcast Corporation.

Comcast Corporation is a longtime, valued member of the Grand Rapids Area Chamber of Commerce and an active member of our business community. We believe Comcast's continued success is good for the people and businesses of Grand Rapids and we support this venture.

The Grand Rapids Area Chamber of Commerce has 2,800 members of which 80% are small businesses. Despite its size, Comcast has consistently acted with the same local care and concern for small members as well as large. By offering service discounts to our Chamber members and having a presence on our Board of Directors, Comcast demonstrates that it knows our community and is committed to being a contributing member. Additionally, Comcast is a consistent supporter of many community organizations and events that bring our community together.

What we care about most at the Grand Rapids Area Chamber of Commerce is the continued economic growth and high quality of life in our community, and I can honestly say that Comcast has made great contributions to further our organization's mission and has made our community a better place to live and work.

Please keep our opinions in mind throughout your review process.

Sincerely,

Jeanne A. Englehart

Re: MB Docket No. 10-56

Dear Chairman Genachowski:

As a businessman, community volunteer and elected representative of the 90th district in Michigan, I have devoted my life to building our communities -literally and figuratively. I am proud to say that Comcast shares this commitment to the communities in my legislative district, and I am happy to support its request to join with NBC Universal.

Prior to my election to the Michigan House, I served as a board director of our local Habitat for Humanity Chapter. I have seen first-hand the community investment power of Comcast when its local employees - joined by friends and family - work side-by-side with Habitat's volunteers on Comcast Cares Day. It is a wonderful effort that I was proud to participate in this year.

Comcast is to be commended for understanding its local communities and helping them meet their needs, and I believe that it should be allowed to partner with NBC.

Sincerely,

Re: MB Docket No. 10-56

Dear Chairman Genachowski:

On behalf of the Greater Springfield, Illinois Chamber of Commerce, I request that the FCC grant permission for Comcast to partner with NBC Universal. Comcast is an active and respected member of our Chamber and demonstrates a real commitment to our organization's local mission.

The Greater Springfield Chamber of Commerce is a voluntary association of business and professional men and women who, through committees and professional staff, have made important contributions to the Greater Springfield area's commercial, industrial and civic development over a long period of years. Several of Comcast's local executives are active members of the chamber and contribute regularly to our events and initiatives. Our Comcast members provide important business updates to keep us informed on topics like the digital transition, and our other members benefit from the technology and expertise Comcast offers them to support the operations of their business.

In 2010, Comcast sponsored our Springfield Business Connections event. This provided a forum for our members and prospective members to network and learn from one another. Comcast has also featured our organization on the Newsmakers program, which enables us to promote tourism, business and membership in the chamber. We appreciate the fact that a company like Comcast invests so much in our local affairs.

Of course, I would be remiss if I did not mention the impact Comcast has on our local economy. As a major employer in the Springfield area that has invested millions to update our communications infrastructure, Comcast is making it possible for our businesses and people to be more productive and better connected to the region, country and world.

As businesspeople, our chamber members understand how vital it is for any company to grow and expand if it wants to survive. Therefore, we heartily support Comcast's plan to join with NBC Universal. We strongly urge the FCC to approve this proposal.

Sincerely,

Gary Plummer
CEO
Greater Springfield Chamber of Commerce

Dear Chairman Genachowski and Commissioners:

I understand that you are reviewing the proposed Comcast NBC Universal joint venture and as part of that review are seeking input on how these companies operate in the community. I want to let you know that as a Chicago Alderman representing over 65,000 people, Comcast has proven to be a strong corporate partner. They have assisted with funding and materials for my annual Stay In School Picnic and have supported our local Job Fairs with funding and sending HR recruiters.

Comcast's commitment to the constituency that we both serve has been consistent and much appreciated over the years.

As Comcast completes this proposed NBC Universal joint venture, we look forward to our continued partnership with them as we continue to have a positive impact in the community.

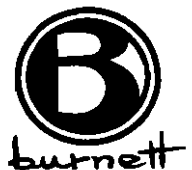

I appreciate you taking the time to consider the viewpoint of a local official familiar with Comcast's commitment to my community as you consider the local impact of this proceeding.

Most sincerely,

 Walter Burnett, Jr.

RE: MB Docket No. 10-56

Dear Chairman Genachowski,

In light of Comcast's long-standing support for diversity and for the organization I oversee, Chicago Neighbors United, I am writing to express my support for Comcast as it enters into a new business ventures.

As the President of Chicago Neighbors United, I have first-hand knowledge of Comcast's commitment to diversity. Chicago Neighborhood United is a non-profit organization serving the residents of the 27th Ward.

Comcast has been a valuable community partner and has supported us in many ways including providing funding and minerals for our annual Stay In School event.

I am confident that a combined Comcast and NBC will continue both companies' commitment to diversity in the community.

Sincerely,

Darlena Williams-Burnett,
President
